Dear Ansley Park Of Stockbridge,

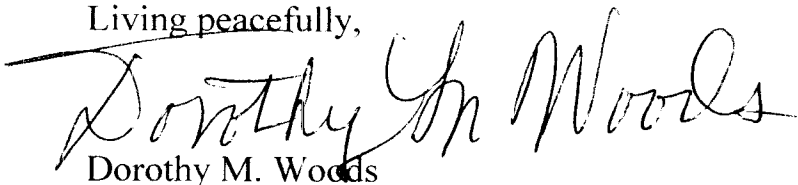

I really like this community. A friend of mine lives here and after bringing her home one evening and noticing how clean and quiet the neighborhood, I was really impressed.

My husband and I moved in shortly after. We are nearing the retirement age and wanted a smaller place without stairs. I remarked to a friend of mine after moving in that the place was so refreshing you couldn't tell me I wasn't at a Florida resort until, I looked out the window and there were no palm trees.

The management staff is most accommodating and friendly accompanied with the air of southern hospitality.

This place is really a nice place for someone seeking the peace and quiet of country living with all the amenities of a big city.

Living peacefully,
